A few words from Mr Newman

We have finished the Spring Term this week with wonderful news for one of our Year 12 students. Kyra Daley has been awarded the highly-coveted 'Pioneer Award' by The Britain-Australia Society Education Trust (BASET). She has been selected to spend this summer in Melbourne, Australia, where she will stay with an exchange family and have the opportunity to attend Haileybury Melbourne. BASET provides sponsorship for young people in both the UK and Australia and provides the financial support for such exchanges so that students can learn new skills and experience a different culture. This opportunity is a direct result of our connection with Haileybury and simply would not have been possible without this partnership. We look forward to hearing about Kyra's live changing opportunity in due course.

All our Year 7 and 8 students, as well as some older students, met the children's author Alan Gibbons yesterday when he visited us. There was a real buzz in the Hall when he spoke to our students, with very many of them wanting Alan to then sign their copy of one of his books. This was a great opportunity for our students to be inspired by a very successful author and for many of them, to speak to him directly about his books.

Students in Year 11 and the Sixth Form spent last weekend at Haileybury's Model United Nations Conference. There is an excellent student report about this conference by John Pearce later in HT News. Also later in HT News there are reports from the Broxbourne Youth Awards, further news from our superb Creative & Performing Arts Faculty, and a report about our student leaders who have played such an important role in some recent very successful primary school events.

We have continued to offer a growing range of opportunities for our students this term including many that have taken place with Haileybury. As a result of these opportunities we continue to see an increasing commitment to school life from very many of our students. This is all possible as a result of the commitment of our dedicated staff who I also wish to thank.

Finally, I would like to wish all students and families a very pleasant and safe Easter break. Enjoy reading HT News!

Amazing Opportunity for one of our Sixth Formers

Nine students in Year 12 applied for the BASET Bursary this year for an all-expenses paid trip to Australia to be a boarder at Haileybury Melbourne for 5 weeks during the summer break.

The four finalists were invited to London to take part in a range of interviews and they have decided that Kyra Daley should be awarded this bursary. She is absolutely thrilled! This opportunity came via Haileybury and will be a life changing event for Kyra.

Other finalists were:

- Luke Hobbs
- Nareece Brazier
- Megan Pope

Congratulations to all finalists for taking part in this rigorous process.

Haileybury Dance Showcase 2018

On Friday 9th April our Sixth Form students performed at Haileybury's Dance Showcase. It was an excellent opportunity to represent Haileybury Turnford at this event. Big School was completely packed for this wonderful occasion with students, friends and family members cheering on all of the different performers. Very many thanks to Miss Bilsby for supporting our students. We look forward to our Dance Show at HT after Easter.

The Launch of the 2018 Grow Club Challenge

Our students met Charles Walker MP at the launch of the 2018 CHEXS Grow Club Challenge. Haileybury Turnford Outdoors as winners of the CHEXS Secondary Schools Grow Club Competition 2017 were invited to attend the launch of this year's competition, held at St Joseph's Primary School.

Students listened to a talk by the Headteacher Mr Tony Gorton about how growing fits in with the primary curriculum, which was followed by a presentation by their school gardeners and finally a talk by their volunteer Lee who visits a couple of times a week to run their Grow Club. Lee also answered questions about growing crops. Local MP, Charles Walker spoke to some of our students.

The competition crops have been delivered by the sponsors Aylett Nurseries and some new growers have joined this year. The strawberry plants and fruit trees have been pruned, beds dug over and the grass now needs cutting before the growing can begin.

If you get a chance ask Mr Collins about the chilli plants...

Model United Nations Conference (MUN) at Haileybury

Haileybury Turnford students attended the Haileybury's Model United Nations Conference this weekend.

We were proudly representing Kuwait, Tanzania and Malaysia, working with students from across the UK, USA, Lebanon, Holland, France and many more.

Thank you to our sponsor, Haileybury for our invite to this prestigious conference for schools from around the world.

For those who don't know, MUN stands for Model United Nations, in which students from across the country (and sometimes the world) must take on the role of a delegate representing a member state of the real United Nations. Of course, these states are always randomised, and this year, we put ourselves in the shoes of Tanzania, Kuwait and Malaysia. Consequently, students are divided into committees showcasing different present-day issues revolving around topics such as disarmament, human rights and finance. It is then up to the students to solve the problems through heated debates in which participants must adopt their respective countries' views and not their own, enforcing them to take a different approach from their usual debating style.

The MUN at Haileybury lasts three days and takes place annually, welcoming students of all skill levels to experience proper parliamentary procedure and hone their critical thinking. Unlike most events created for the purpose of enjoyment, the quality of MUN morphs depending on how much you speak and research. It's true that some people don't even speak at all and have fun regardless, but after attending the conference three times, I can safely say that these people are missing out – anyone can make a point just as long as they're confident enough. You're expected to research the topics for debate beforehand, and while it isn't compulsory, I would recommend this to any newcomer who wishes to dominate the stage. Despite this, I'm not saying that the process of MUN is hard to learn, in fact, this year's newcomers seemed to learn more by taking part rather than letting people explain everything; this is what makes this event so commendable, and I hope that those who wish to give it a try next year will think the same.

Women's rights - Broxbourne Youth Awards at The Spotlight

On Friday 9th March 2018 we performed at The Spotlight for the Broxbourne Youth Awards. Our Drama and Dance piece focused on women's rights. It was an amazing experience to perform in front of lots of people; however it made me feel very nervous! The Broxbourne stage is very different to our usual stage so we had to get used to the surroundings and the space we had. Our piece was very powerful because it was a serious topic and made the audience think about the parts that we were playing and how times have changed since. It was also powerful because it made the audience feel quite emotional. The power of the dance made our whole performance stand out at the end of the evening as it clearly showed an important and strong message. The lighting and music created an effective atmosphere as if the audience was in the characters' shoes. It is important to explore this message because it gives people an insight into how it used to be for women. This experience has helped me grow as a performer massively! I have learnt to be more confident on stage and it has really inspired me to carry on with Performing Arts.

Spotlight performance

While we are here tonight to recognise the many great accomplishments that display behind me. It must be known that these women never did revolutionary things that a man hasn't. We are praising accomplishments merely because women did them... Because there is no bar high enough or scope wide enough to truly enable women to perform their best selves in a society riddled with male privilege. I am saying that we have a journey, a quest to keep on fighting for, a bar to keep on pushing, excellence that deserves to be shown. A world that forces women into investing to be satisfactory, a world that hides women but is made by women, a world that has failed to legally protect women for so long. We may have the vote, and I'm not complaining about that, but I'm saying that laws are not enough.

If laws reflect social attitudes, then I'm demanding more change, because frankly, I'm outraged, just here insistent that the women of the future never have to engage in such resistance to request a place for free existence. I mean... If I have not got full sovereignty over my body, is that not failed social democracy, misogyny? If she has to say yes under duress, let that be the sign to leave her to rest.

If we are truly equal as it stands, then why is every professional tier dominated by men
In the case of these events, it is suffocating to know I can't raise children letting them believe that this world is a glorious, supreme, divine utopia.

I am sick and tired of people debating my existence and the things I get allowed to do, there is no place for your angle of view, no mitigating my lived experience through patronising slurs, because we show that nothing can deter... us from the power that has been boiling over inside.

At the very least these women behind me symbolise what can happen if we battle against a society, and do not leave quietly, disguised behind a gaze, shoved to the back, prisoner of the home, violated, beaten, worn-down, tired – these women are the best the world has to offer, and they have so much more to give... if only we'd let them.

I know you are resilient, strong, powerful.
I know you are patient, passive, thoughtful.

The greatest gift granted to the women behind me and those sat in front of me... is that you are powerful in your every detail.

May these women light the path, and may we all follow it forward – expanding, growing, developing and showing the world that we have had all we ever needed from day one. I say we build a bridge from pain to change. I say we call it out when we see it. I say we don't allow it to persist. I say we organise and rebel. I'm just dreaming of the future now; I'm just dreaming of the future now.

Author Allan Gibbons visits Haileybury Turnford

Allan Gibbons, the author of many teenage books including The Beautiful Game and Winds of October visited HT this week. All Year 7 & 8 students were very lucky to have Allan Gibbons visit and give a talk which was inspiring, entertaining and thought provoking. Allan also delivered workshops during the morning in the library, to provide students with an amazing opportunity to learn some creative writing skills which we hope will inspire our budding authors to write their best creative stories and also encourage all our students to read more. It was an amazing opportunity.

Haileybury Turnford Librarian, Alison Saunders, added "He has motivated many of our students to read more and appreciate the value of reading. This is a very exciting event for us at Haileybury Turnford."

Staffing changes

Today we say farewell to Lee Bennett who will be retiring following 14 years with us working as our Design & Technology Technician. He has been a very important member of staff, supporting both staff in Design & Technology and our students with their practical work so wonderfully well. In addition to carrying out his role, nothing is ever too much and he has provided much support to our site team over the years too. He has consistently gone above and beyond, to serve our school community. We wish Lee a long and healthy retirement.

We have recently welcomed back Mrs Male from maternity leave, in the History Department. We are also saying goodbye to Dr Wilkinson who has decided to take semi-retirement. Dr Wilkinson worked as SENCO, Head of Year and taught numerous subjects over a decade with us. She wishes you to know that it has been a privilege to work with the students and staff over the years. She thanks everyone who she has known and for all the help they have given her.

Year 11 students have been participating in their final mock examinations over the past two weeks in preparation for the fast approaching GCSE examinations. Students have already been receiving feedback from their teachers and will be expected to put this into action.

On Tuesday 10th April 2018, Year 11 will be in school all day working on coursework and exam techniques. Students will be guided to specific subject areas that they have been requested for, and will be expected to make significant progress throughout the day. Students are expected to attend in full school uniform and lunch will be served as normal.

Upcoming key GCSE examination dates:

Polish speaking GCSE examination – 10th April 2018
Spanish speaking GCSE examination – 11th & 12th April 2018
Photography GCSE examination – 17th & 18th April 2018
Drama GCSE monologues – 24th April 2018
Dance GCSE practical examination – 25th April 2018
Drama GCSE monologues letter – 26th April 2018
Dance GCSE theory – 27th April 2018

For further information pertinent to Year 11, including the preliminary GCSE exam timetable, please visit the following link: <http://www.haileyburyturnford.com/students/year-11-2/>

How can YOU help your child succeed?

We will be running an information evening on Tuesday 24th April 2018 at 6.00pm to provide guidance and support to parents/carers on how to help your child prepare for their GCSE examinations. The evening will include information about attendance/punctuality, revision techniques, reducing stress, organisation of the student, motivational techniques, and exam expectations/practices. Please make every effort to attend this very important evening.

The Prom & Leavers' Assembly

- Final payment for the Prom is due by 13th April 2018. Please make sure all payments are up to date. The overall total will be £50 with all payments to be made by Parent Pay.
- Leavers' assembly will take place on Friday 29th June 2018 and will commence at 9.00am. We would encourage all students and parents to attend this celebration, marking an end of an era.
- Students can also purchase a leavers' hoodie, which can be ordered and paid for on the following website: <https://www.schoolleaverscompany.co.uk/shops/SL40806>. Orders can be made up to the 30th March 2018.

Attendance/Punctuality

Unfortunately a small number of students in Year 11 have let their level of punctuality drop over recent weeks, to the point of putting at risk their ability to achieve in their examinations. Please ensure that your child is attending school every day and arriving no later than 8.30am. Every day absent between now and the GCSE examination will severely impact on their ability to achieve.

Revision

Students need to be revising hard for their summer examinations. It is our expectation that students are completing 2 hours of revision a day, which should include 1 hour of intervention after school. Weekends and holidays should not be considered as time off, but as an opportunity to work without distractions and for extensive revision. When a student is revising at home, you should expect to see some of the following strategies being implemented:

- Listening and Reading Exercises
- Using Revision Guides
- Creating and using Flashcards
- Using Post-it notes and displaying where they can be seen every day
- Using revision apps on mobile phones (e.g. Tassomai, PiXL)
- Using revision websites and tests (GCSE Bitesize, Youtube videos, Exam board websites)

Year 8 Art and Photography Workshop

On Friday 23rd March students in Year 8 were invited to an Art and Photography workshop in the Main School Hall. Students were given the opportunity to explore new techniques and processes that are experienced in GCSE Fine Art and Photography. Students handled the tasks really well and were proud to take their work home with them.

Combined Cadet Force (CCF) at Haileybury

On Monday and Tuesday last week we went to Haileybury to do the first 24 hour deployment of the year, where Sophie and I helped teach the Year 10s field craft skills. They learnt how to cook, sleep, protect a harbour area, and gather information on the enemy and also how to defeat an enemy force. Sophie and I are both Sergeants in the CCF (we are both 2nd in command) and played the enemy on Tuesday afternoon, being defeated 4 times by the 4 sections of cadets who had been trained over the weekend for that moment.

On Monday the cadets had two lessons in the morning and two in the afternoon, before they set out to create their harbour area. They learnt how to use the equipment they were given to cook in the field and they even got a taste of the food they would be eating. The expressions on their faces were mixed when tasting the ration pack food. They also learnt different ways of setting up their basha, which is a simple sheet that would cover them for the night. This led to extreme shock with the thought of sleeping on the floor! The next lesson they had was learning how to patrol in all of the different ways to ensure that they knew what they were doing when they went into the field. They learnt how to move in single file, staggered file, extended line, and all around the fence. They used all of these in the two days. The two lessons cadets had in the afternoon were a lesson on RTR, where they would learn how to approach an enemy in extended line in a contact front scenario. And a lesson on sentry positions where they learnt how to protect a harbour area from all angles.

After all of the lessons were completed, everyone was issued with kit for the field. The platoon of cadets was split into three sections with the Year 12s as the section commanders and 2/ic's. We then set out to our harbour area and once we were all set up everyone started to cook their first meal and settle in. Once they had all finished doing their admin, everyone was called together for the first patrol to an observation point to find out details on the enemy. The three sections set out and section 1 and 2 gathered information and returned, however section 3 happened to set out, get lost, gather no information and return back late, but it was not as easy as it sounded. Once they returned everyone went back to their bashers and sat there quietly until an enemy force had started to attack us and we had to take down our bashers and get ready to leave. Once we finished it was too cold to stay out so we set up our sleeping bags inside on the floor, girls in one room and boys in the other, and everyone tried to get a good sleep.

The next morning we all got ready and cooked our breakfast outside and handed in kit that we did not need anymore. Once we were done we were ready for the day's events. And then we went on a long patrol through lots of mud to a different area in the woods where we got a chance to do a CQB lanes (Close Quarter Battle). This is where two people go down a path and shoot any enemies they see. We all put cam cream on our faces and everyone got one chance to have a go, with five targets and 20 blank rounds - we had to use our rounds carefully. Once we finished we went back and had lunch inside this time and then we all came back and were given rounds for the RTR. Sophie and I, as the enemy, were given a lot of rounds, approximately 300 each and we had to load the magazines and when the cadets came up we were to fire at them from a hidden area and then come out into an open area and continue firing as they approached us and killed us every time. Once we had finished the most exciting part of the weekend we got to do the most tedious thing of the weekend; cleaning the rifles. It's a long process that has to be done accurately which many find boring. We spend a good couple hours cleaning.

It was a good two days where the cadets learnt a lot and got an opportunity of a lifetime. It was fun and challenging at the same time but very enjoyable for all.

A wonderful evening at the Broxbourne Youth Awards

The HT community was very well represented at The Spotlight in Hoddesdon on Friday 9th March, and what an evening it was, celebrating the achievement of young people and adults who support them across the Borough of Broxbourne.

Ellie Clarke (Year 11) and Laura Lewis (Year 13) were shortlisted for the Young Person's Contribution to Culture, our Year 9 Boys' Football Team was shortlisted for Youth Team Achievement and Arteme Khamfriz (Year 9) was shortlisted for the Young Person's Achievement Award. Very many congratulations to each of our students for this excellent recognition for their achievements.

A number of HT staff were shortlisted for Inspirational Teacher of the Year – Charlotte Bilsby, Rosa Davey, Richard Duncan, Vanessa Elliott, Sasha Giles, Steve Hill, Ozan Husnu, Kathryn Johnson, Carly Lynch, Ewan Macaulay, Lisa Megaw, Jo Mitchell, Emma Morgan, Brendon Walsh and Linda Williams. Mary Dettmar was highly commended in this award category. Many congratulations to all members of staff who were nominated.

HT student Loui Tanner-Brown performed during the evening as part of X-Studio, and HT member of staff Linda Williams presented the Todd Waldock Young Entrepreneur Award in memory of her son.

Our stunning Creative and Performing Arts students closed the show – they performed a very poignant close to the evening 100 years since the suffragette movement, representing and reflecting on current equality issues within today's society and celebrating last Thursday's International Women's Day. They were simply sensational.

Below is a quote from the organisers:

"Many thanks to your performers and teachers for delivering such an outstanding finale to Friday's Youth Awards night. The girls conducted themselves with professionalism and were welcoming and supportive to a solo performer from another school. They were a delight to work with. Looking forward to working with you and the school in the future."

We are looking forward to next year already!
